[Opening Music]

Host: (0:00 - 0:15) Welcome to our podcast, where we explore the fascinating stories behind two iconic windows in Florence: the Buchette del vino and the Cursed Window in Santissima Annunziata. I'm your host, and together, let's embark on a journey through history, mystery, and tradition.

[Transition Music]

Host: (0:16 - 1:00) First, let's uncover the secrets behind the Buchette del vino, or wine windows, scattered throughout Florence. These small, discreet openings in the walls of palazzos and historical buildings have a rich history dating back to the Renaissance. Originally used by Florentine winemakers to sell their wine directly to customers on the streets, the Buchette del vino were a clever solution to circumvent taxes and regulations.

[Transition Music]

Host: (1:01 - 1:45) Imagine strolling through the narrow cobblestone streets of Florence centuries ago, where merchants would pass flasks of wine through these tiny windows, creating a bustling atmosphere filled with the aromas of fine Tuscan wine. While the tradition of the Buchette del vino waned over time, a recent revival has captured the imagination of locals and visitors alike, preserving this unique aspect of Florentine culture for generations to come.

MYSTERIES BEHIND THE WINDOWS OF FLORENCE

Introduction

Today, we embark on a journey to unravel the mysteries concealed behind the windows of Florence.

1st mystery

Back to the 16th century, where the story of our first window unfolds.

Ghost appears
This window harbors a mystery. You must not close it, for I await his return.

Waiting for my husband, of course! He went to war and never returned, but he promised!

Is not the Grand Duke of Tuscany your lover, that statue overlooking the square?

I have nothing to do with Ferdinand., those are malicious claims. The window MUST ALWAYS remain open!
